The most important thing for future Economics success is to start paying attention to events happening in the UK and the world. Whether that's reading articles, news sites or the news on TV. Keep aware of events and the world around you. Recommended books (available at libraries): - Doughnut Economics by Kate Raworth - Good Economics for Hard Times by Esther Duflo and Abhijit Banerjee - The Armchair Economist by Tim Harford	Headstart to A-Level Economics: Microeconomics and Macroeconomics (5 mins): https://youtu.be/2Nq8LN3XGQA?si=G6WlxOG1fwpBuCH9 Ted Talk from Nobel Prize winning Esther Duflo about Development and Economics (16 mins): https://www.ted.com/talks/esther_duflo_social_experiments_to_fight_poverty?language=en There are a range of different TED talks, so expand your knowledge and watch a few more! Watch "The Big Short" film on Netflix (Oscar nominated film about events leading to 2009 financial crash)	If you have studied Geography you could revisit your understanding of globalisation. Maths skills required for the course require a strong understanding of percentages, data interpretation (graphs and numerical), averages and being able rearrange given formulas. Make sure you're comfortable with these skills.	Preliminary task: War has resulted in a lot of uncertainty. With the war in the middle east, and Ukraine/Russia it has implemented a lot of challenges that will have to be faced, and policies may change to prevent long term damage. Can you consider all areas in economics that might be affected. Conduct some research to understand a range of different areas that will be impacted and consider government intervention that might take place, and what the consequences would be on different economic agents.
