

free their potential – teach

Future Teaching Scholars
programme

We are looking for outstanding maths or physics students planning to study a maths- or physics-related degree at university who also have a strong desire to teach others about their subject. If that sounds like you, then why not apply for a £15k grant and join the Future Teaching Scholars programme?

As well as receiving a £15k grant, as a Future Teaching Scholar you become a member of an exclusive and exciting national programme that will:

- ✔ support you through your undergraduate years while studying your maths- or physics-related degree
- ✔ involve you in exciting school-based activities during your undergraduate years
- ✔ guarantee a place on a salaried initial teacher training (ITT) course after graduation
- ✔ host national and regional events to support professional development and building your network
- ✔ enrol you on a one-week pre-ITT course the summer after you graduate
- ✔ support you in finding your first teaching job.

Our scholars, on the National Conference:

"I enjoyed it a lot, not just the lectures but also the opportunity to meet other scholars."

"A genuinely exciting and informative experience."

"I found it incredibly inspiring to get to know other people on the programme."

This prestigious programme has a limited number of spaces – apply now for your chance to become one of an elite group of Future Teaching Scholars.
