

Equality Statement and Objectives 2017-19

Highdown School and Sixth Form Centre is totally committed to promoting equal opportunity and inclusion. The objectives below have been developed following a thorough equality analysis and underpin our work in demonstrating our commitment to providing an environment that is free from prejudice or discrimination.

Policies

This statement is to clarify how we establish equality objectives, how we assess the impact of our policies and procedures and the process of decision. Links to Academy policies are shown below.

Equality Duty Consultation

In April 2011 the Public Sector Equality Duty came into force in England, Scotland and Wales. This duty replaces the existing race, disability and gender equality duties.

The Equality Act says that schools and other public bodies must:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination
- Advance equality of opportunity
- Foster good relationships
- The Equality Act also identifies certain characteristics which are protected from discrimination. The protected characteristics/groups are:

Sex	Disability	Age (as an employer)
Race	Gender reassignment	Pregnancy and maternity
Religion or belief	Sexual orientation	Marriage and civil partnership

In line with our duties under the Equality Act, we analyse our existing practices and outcomes in relation to equality and consider objectives to help us improve further.

Equality Analysis

These statements are based on an evidence base held by the school. The school analyses its provision in order to make sure that it promotes equality and helps everyone to make the most of their talents.

- Our examination results indicate that students from a range of different groups perform well and make better than expected progress compared to national figures. There are instances where this is not the case; at GCSE and A level
 - Disadvantaged students do not make the same progress as their peers
 - Boys do not make the same progress as girls in English and maths
- Our curriculum is judged as good. It includes options at KS4 and KS5 which maximise student choice. The curriculum is reviewed annually to ensure the needs of specific year groups are met.
- We have a strong PSHCE programme which addresses issues of equality and challenges stereotypes, however, more work needs to be done to promote understanding of, and meet the needs of, LGBTQ+ staff and students.
- Extra-curricular opportunities are encouraged for all students, and those involved represent a cross section of the students that we have in the school, however, the Academy is taking steps to actively encourage a wider participation in Drama and some areas of PE.
- Our support structures provide very strong support for students with Special Educational Needs as well as for students needing particular mentoring for other pastoral or academic reasons.
- Students with disabilities are a priority in terms of resourcing and support.

- We continue to take a strong stance on bullying; this includes harassment or victimisation on any grounds. We address the issue of homophobic language, and continue to challenge racist or other discriminatory behaviours or language.
- The majority of students behave very well, and have a commitment to their future. Where students need to modify their behaviour, they receive advice and strategies to help them do so.
- Our staff are well qualified and take pride in their work in the school. They include many of the different protected characteristics above, and relationships between staff and line managers are very positive.
- Fixed term exclusion rates are higher for Black and Mixed Heritage students.
